

Barn Owl

Barn owls are nocturnal birds of prey with unique white faces and distinctive heart-shaped faces. They live in open areas, often staying in barns and other buildings. Their diet mainly includes rodents, which they hunt using their sharp hearing and silent flight. Barn owls are found everywhere except Antarctica and are recognized by their spooky screeches. They're important in keeping rodent numbers in check, which helps people a lot.

